

I am against the relaxing of the current FCC rules. I feel the radio media is already too biased to the Ultraconservative view and letting them purchase more stations will only limit the possibility of my finding stations that I care to listen to. Clear Channel owns way too many stations.